Brandi Timmerman, Certification Manager, AT&T, *February, 2023

“Karen prepared my resume and cover letter when I retired from state government and returned to the lobby arena. We spend two hours discussing my experience. I used the resume for many years and recommend Karen for expertise in resume writer. As a college graduation present for my nephew and my niece, I provided Karen's resume services. My nephew's new professionally prepared resume resulted in a job offer within hours! My niece passed out her resume at a university sponsored job fair. My niece had two interviews within a week and two job offers. I believe the time spent with Karen while she prepared their resumes assisted my nephew and niece in their job interviews. Both had a well-defined description of their past education, experience and employment and they were able to professionally respond to questions during their interviews. And they both landed good jobs! Thank you, Karen.”

Karen did an excellent job of taking my vast array of experience(s) and presenting them in a professional document showcasing my personal bests in a relevant and logical sequence. I had attempted to write my own resume, but became very frustrated with how to present the mass of information necessary when seeking a position as a chief executive. Karen was easy to work with and her pricing is quite reasonable.”

“6 months of job search with nothing to show but a pocket full of "I'll ask my ... and let you know if they know of anything" and a truckload of bogus offers from companies I can't barely find on Google. Really? I can make up to $425K a year with no experience needed? Where do I sign up? So I decided to shell out the cash for Karen's resume service (service is the key word here) and I'm happy that I did. Not only was she pleasant to speak with but she offered multiple options to suit my needs. She even gave me a long list of worthy job search websites to check out. Less than a month later I had received over a half dozen serious offers from reputable companies, one of which I've accepted and will be starting in a couple of weeks. Thanks a million Karen! Well worth the money.”

From her phone consultation she gets to know you more personally and allow your personality to shine through so she can then translate that into your resume. I am very pleased with the results. “In 2007, while working at IBM I was approached by another company about taking over some projects at their company. I had not updated my resume in some time, and started doing the task myself. I quickly realized that I might be better off if I got somebody that specializes in doing this. Karen had been recommended to me and I contacted her. I hired her to update my resume, and she did an outstanding job. She did a very thorough interview, asking a lot of very good questions. With this information she crafted an outstanding resume. I only had to use it once, and got the results I was looking for. Since then, I have had her update it, just so it is ready. I am not looking to go anywhere, but in this environment, you never know what might happen, opportunity or ..... Most recently, I had her do my son in law’s resume. I was worried, because he had experience, but no college degree. However, he did have Army experience and a tour of duty in Iraq. Karen was able to produce a very impressive resume, accenting the positive aspects and presenting them in a very positive manner. I had this resume reviewed by the HR department at my present company, and both reviewers said it was excellent. For me, and I would imagine most other people, it is hard to highlight my own accomplishments. I would highly recommend Karen to do this as she asks the right questions, produces a very good resume quickly and for a fair price. Then, like I told my son in law, the rest is up to you.”
